☞ All the pupils of this department are required to recite one lesson a week in the Scriptures, during the entire course.

☞ In addition to the regular course of study necessary to graduation, all the pupils have the opportunity of studying Music, French, Latin, Greek, &c. Those who complete the SCIENTIFIC COURSE, embracing the higher Mathematics, or the regular COLLEGIATE COURSE, are entitled to the corresponding degree.

THE FEMALE DEPARTMENT is designed to afford young ladies all the advantages of a Female Seminary; while the full Collegiate Course is open to them, without additional expense. In Philosophy, Chemistry, Ancient Languages, and the Higher Mathematics, the young ladies are instructed by the Professors in those departments.

General Remarks.

LOCATION.

WAYNESBURG is a village of 1200 inhabitants, unsurpassed in healthfulness of location. Free from the excitements and temptations common to towns on the great thoroughfares of travel, it affords a peculiarly favorable retreat for an institution of learning.

CHARACTER OF THE INSTITUTION.

Waynesburg College is not strictly a co-educational school—the Female Department having its own course of study, internal regulations, diploma, and, in the main, its own teachers. While pursuing their own course of study, young ladies have the privilege of entering college classes in such studies as may not be taught in their department, thus enjoying advantages superior to those offered by most female seminaries. The experience of many years impresses the minds of those who have the care of the Institution, with the conviction, that the association of the sexes in school-life is attended with the most happy effects upon the manners, morals and diligence of the students.

RELIGIOUS INFLUENCE.

Every student is required to attend divine service on the Sabbath, and to observe the day as sacred. The duties of each day are introduced with reading of the Scriptures, singing and prayer, which all the students are required to attend. The chapel being furnished with a school organ, the morning exercises have the attraction of good music.

GOVERNMENT.

The patrons of the Institution are assured that the deepest interest is felt in the moral culture of those who receive intellectual training within its halls. The government is parental, and will be mildly, but strictly, enforced; the design being to secure attention to study, by cultivating in the youthful mind a love for intellectual pursuits, and virtuous habits.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

The collegiate year is divided into two terms, of five months each. The first term begins on the third Monday in October; the second, on the third Monday in April.

CONDITION OF THE INSTITUTION.

The friends of the Institution are assured that it was never in a more prosperous condition than at the present, and that its prospects for permanence and increased usefulness were never brighter. This Catalogue shows a liberal patronage from abroad, representing a number of States. The number of Alumni is yearly increasing, thus securing to the Institution true friends that will feel a life-long interest in its welfare. In the pulpit, in the halls of legislation, through the press, at the bar, in the academies and colleges of the land, from New England to California, those who have been here educated are giving the most satisfactory evidence that their training is such as well qualifies for the great practical duties of life.

The Endowment Fund is gradually increasing.

The LIBRARY is growing, and now contains a number of very valuable works of reference, in addition to such works as may furnish entertaining and profitable reading. The friends of the College are reminded that donations in books or money, for the benefit of the Library, will be gladly received at any time. The APPARATUS now on hand is very creditable, though some parts need to be supplied to render it fully effective; and additions of an important kind will be made during the next year.

SPECIAL RULES FOR THE FEMALE DEPARTMENT.

1. No young lady is permitted to board in a family where gentlemen students board, except in such special cases as may be approved by the Faculty.

2. The pupils must apply themselves to such studies as are prescribed by the Faculty, and all their recitations must be to the regular teachers of the Institution.

3. The pupils are all required to attend bible-class once a week, at such time as the Faculty may direct.

4. Walking or riding abroad on the Sabbath, for pleasure or recreation, is expressly forbidden.

5. Young ladies must not receive calls from gentlemen on any other day than Saturday, nor entertain such company at a later hour than 9 o'clock in the evening.

6. Young ladies must not absent themselves from their boarding houses, after night, except to attend religious services; nor attend any social party, or go to the country or elsewhere on any pleasure excursion, without permission from the Principal.
